LADIES HOLD BIG BONSPIEL HERE

Ladies from the various points along the line gathered at Wainwright last Friday for the ladies bonspiel held at the Wainwright curling rink. Some real good curling games were featured, and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

Twenty-five rinks in all were represented, and two major competitions and a consolation event were run off. Prizes were well distributed between locals and visitors. Carol rink came out as winners of the Grand Challenge, also winning the grand aggregate trophy cups, followed by Miles, Letawsky and Wallace of Wainwright.

The Davidson rink took first in the Elite Theatre event, and Davidson and McCuskey, third and fourth.

In the consolation event David and Ribstone took first, with Gehring second and Carter and Calvert following.

The banquet was held on Friday evening in the L.O.O.F. hall, very pleasantly catered by the ladies of the Gerald Club.

Exercise Snowshovel

Last Wednesday evening witnessed one of the truly major operations in our community, by some 20 of our "CUBS" and Junior scouts—an exercise called "Snowshovel". These enthusiastic boys, armed to the teeth with snowshovels—and filled with that healthy spirit of doing something worthwhile for their town, assembled at the home of their leader Mr. Lyle Adams at 7 p.m. The objective of this concentration of boys, was the tremendous enterprise of cleaning the snow from the sidewalk leading to the hospital. The boys had decided that such a project was "truly worthwhile, and much needed—and true to their cub oath of—"doing a good turn each day". They halted the idea. The group being divided into four packs of five boys in each with assorted shovels of makes and sizes ranging in size from a gigantic snowshovel to a small spade—they set to work and such a spirit there was too!

"I might add: It was, as if a whole army were on some great scheme, with the command—"Destination or bust". At first the task seemed to be, the leaders, as being almost an impossibility to complete, but not to the boys however. They worked like beavers, snow flew in all directions and laughter and gaiety was the keynote of all.

In a little over two hours a great cry of—"We done it!" was heard from the front end of the line, and the two more sodden groups broke through to each other. It was an historic moment, and tired but triumphant the boys, announced that the job was done. "Exercise Snowshovel"—had been accomplished!

After the operation Mr. Adams entertained the group at her home and a very delectable lunch was served to the boys at which we all ate heartily, and felt the evening to have been a major accomplishment in our work. I would like to say that these boys deserve a great deal of credit for the true boy scout spirit which they exhibited—not only on this, but on many occasions. The proof of their ability, and their devotion to their devotion to the precepts and the principles which make good scouting in all communities, has been simply demonstrated in the exercise of the snowshovel.

to extend to all people interested in their organization the hope that they will be able to attend the "CUBS' DAY SERVICE" to be held in the Anglican Church on the morning of Feb. 19th at 11 a.m. with the view to becoming more acquainted with this work of our hand, in this community. Yours for good scouting.

The Cub Leaders and Executive.

WE'RE HERE FIRST

It's a cheering thought, but when we read of the more and more powerful atomic bombs, and now the hydrogen bomb we cast a rather apprehensive eye on the fact that we are on the edge of one of Canada's important military camps. If Uncle Joe ever gets around to doing what he would very much like to do right now, and sends over a few planes loaded with these lethal weapons, we sincerely hope that he does not have one labelled for Wainwright. Of course it doesn't matter much if he does... it would be a pretty good way to die, anyhow.

BRITAIN'S DIFFICULTY

One of the greatest difficulties, and a most disheartening one, in her efforts to build up greater trade on this continent, was exemplified in the recent Seattle incident. In this case the City of Seattle gave a large contract for electrical supplies to a United States firm even at a price far higher than that quoted by the British tenderer.

The same attitude appears to apply in varying degree over most parts of the United States and Canada, and still we expect to sell our products overseas, and get paid for them in dollars!

FARM PRICES NEED SUPPORT

The following is taken from an Editorial in "The Western Farm Leader":

"We commend to our readers for careful study the report of Mr. Hannam's opening address to the Annual Meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Niagara falls.

"We do not doubt that Mr. Hannam's call for action to meet the emergency which faces Canadian Agriculture, and his emphasis upon the responsibility of the Dominion Government and of urban industrial interests in regard thereto, will meet with the overwhelming approval of the farm people of Western Canada — as no doubt it will also of those of the East.

"Mr. Hannam pulled no punches. There was restraint in the mode of his expression, but earnestness and force and firm insistence in his demand for national action "to prevent the fastening of an injustice upon large sections of our farming industry."

"The organized farmers, the C.F.A. President pointed out, believe in "producer self-help marketing programs" and agree that a new type of long-term program may be worked out in the near future; but they insist that the situation confronting Agriculture today can only be dealt with successfully by "the kind of emergency action that only the Federal Government can provide."

"At a time when some sections of the press are carrying on a vigorous campaign to put an end to all forms of price supports, Mr. Hannam's intimation that the farmers want them to be continued as a permanent feature of our agricultural economy is timely. He pointed out that a permanent policy of this character will have a healthy influence on the whole national economy, giving it balance and permanent strength.

"A return to the days when the price of wheat could be allowed to vary from high figures down to 20 or 30 cents a bushel would certainly not be welcomed by the farm people of Canada."

DOBBIN HAS POOR SAFETY RECORD

The automobile has a much better safety record than Dobbin ever had. For in 1949, the peak year in horse travel, U.S. had some 26 million horses and mules on their roads and streets, travelling about 13 million miles a year.

It means that Dobbin averaged 500 miles of travel yearly — where the average motor vehicle today goes nearly 9600 miles annually.

The National Safety Council reports 3,850 persons were killed in accidents involving horses and horse-drawn vehicles in 1949.

This means 30 fatalities for each 100 million horse-travel miles. In contrast, the nation's current motor vehicle fatality rate is seven deaths for each 100 million vehicle miles of travel. Automobile Facts.

A cheering note—but still we are faced with the fact that automobile accident rate is far too high... and is on the increase.

EDMONTON'S OIL BOOM FAILS TO EXHITE CITY

Despite an oil boom that has made Edmonton the petroleum capital of Canada and brought it new business as into town, the city "takes the whole thing in stride," declares Ronald Schiller in the February Reader's Digest. No excited plungers through brokers' offices, no increase in drinking or gambling has been noted, and night clubs are still absent from the city. So does in town on Sunday have their choice of several churches—but no movies or beer parlors. Schiller's article, condensed from The American Mercury, says that petroleum reserves underfoot in the Edmonton basin total a billion barrels, and a new producing well kicks in every third day. The oil strike caused excitement in many places, if not in conservative Edmonton. In Washington, military strategists breathed a sigh of relief at the news of bountiful oil supplies so close to Alaska and Arctic bases. Dominion officials in Ottawa look forward to improvement in Canada's entire economy. The province of Alberta, "gleefully watching all revenues increase to $12 million last year," foresees lower taxes and big appropriations for new roads and schools. In all the excitement, Edmonton alone is unmoved. The reason, according to Mayor Harry Ainlay, is a previous "inoculation" against boom. In 1946, when the transcontinental railroads reached town, new west land-crazy, Jasper Avenue properties rose to $2,000 a front foot. People lined up

STOCK PILING FOR THE POLITICAL WARS

Joe Rutledge Says

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

DOUBLE-EDGED ARGUMENT

The leaders of labor have founded many of their demands for increased wages on the claim that such increases were only compensating for the increasing cost of living. To all arguments that wages should be based on the government's cost of living index, had increased faster than living costs, the prompt reply is that these indices do not properly reflect the increase in living costs.

That is a dangerous argument for labor. It is dangerous because there is a certain substance to it. But the case is hardly that presented by the labor leaders to the effect that once controls were removed prices soared.

During the war years, while the prices of many commodities remained unregulated, the index itself was not controlled. This was not any matter of juggling figures. It was merely the natural result of the fact that subsidies on many products kept them at unreasonably low levels. It was so that they appeared in the index. Of course, this subsidy represented part of the actual cost of the product. It had to be paid for, because the public paid for it as taxes rather than as goods, it permitted the cost of living to be lower than it actually was. The black market too had its effect. It intensified scarcities and increased prices, but the purchaser in the black market did not record the prices he paid, so these also were not reflected in the index of living costs. So the failure to present a true comparison is due not to the fact that present prices are inordinately high, but that during the war years they were below actual costs. The increase from the controlled period to the present is adjusted to provide for this discrepancy, would suggest the reverse of labor's argument.

A much more effective argument might be made against the correctness of the wage for the two periods. For while wages show a great advance over the pre-war or even the war years, the whole picture is not presented. Added to the actual wage advances recorded in the index are other benefits that are equivalent to increased wages. They do not so appear. To these might be added the taxation of industry, to provide all the social benefits the worker enjoys.

On the argument of the indices, it would seem that the wage corner was doing well by himself.

Canada's farmers told government leaders in an uncertain terms last week that they wanted price-support action to bolster sagging prices for farm products.

The plea for help started last month when Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced that the greater part of the rich United Kingdom markets had been lost because of Britain's surplus wheat shortage.

Last week the plea began building up into a full-throated roar. Farmers wanted price-support action. They wanted it in a hurry and they wanted it at 40 cents.

Earlier this month the government announced a floor price for bacon, and pegged cheese at a minimum factory price of 27 cents a pound. Last week, after considering the problem for a month, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced that the government would support the price of eggs.

Poultrymen appeared generally satisfied with the government plan where by pecking plants and other cold-storage operators are guaranteed a price of 25 cents a dozen plus cost of storage on all unsold grade A large surplus eggs. Grade A medium eggs will be supported at 42 cents.

Taking into consideration cost of storage, Mr. Gardiner estimated that surplus eggs would cost the government about 42 cents a dozen. This price compares with an average of 47 cents obtained under the United Kingdom egg contract last year.

Farmers Won't Lose

peared to sum up the average reaction to the announcement when he said egg producers will "not get rich but they won't suffer a loss."

C. P. Luckman of St. Williams, Ont., chairman of the National Poultry Council, said that "although the price is low, it's not too far off what we asked."

For Canadian housewives, it meant that the retail price of eggs will likely climb five or six cents a dozen before the end of the month.

The government's announcement about eggs stifled poultrymen's plea for aid but only spurred those coming from the dairy industry.

As the week ended dairy farmers, holding their annual convention right in Ottawa, went on record asking for a three-cent boost in the floor price of cheese and a variety of other government assistance.

They demanded that the government boost the cheese floor price from 21 to 24 cents a pound 20 cents. That the government help finance the export of concentrated milk products; that the government fix the support price of butter at not less than the present 59 cents a pound; that the government lift off the eight-per-cent sales tax on ice cream.

Dr. H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said the market outlook for farmers at this time is "definitely discouraging" and added that net farm income last year dropped $125,000,000 from 1948's figure.

"In other words," said Mr. Hannam, "the situation is much the same as at the beginning of other depression periods. Unless adequate action is taken to head it off, a major crisis is developing in Canadian agriculture."

New Appointments

Prime Minister St. Laurent, who a week earlier had revamped his cabinet in preparation for the Feb. 15 opening of the next session of parliament, announced a new series of important appointments last week.

Major appointments included a new lieutenant-governor for Alberta, two provincial chief justices and a senator. To represent the King in Alberta, the government named John James Bowen of Calgary, a 75-year-old cattleman. He succeeds J. C. Bowen, 77.

Mr. Hon. J. L. Hiley, 56, Canada's wartime finance minister and justice minister until about two years ago, was selected to succeed the late Sir Joseph Chisholm as chief justice of Nova Scotia.

Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor of the appellate division of the supreme court of Alberta and chairman of the Canada Labor Relations Board, was named chief justice of Alberta.

The new senator is Vincent P. Burke of St. John's, Nfld., who rounds out the new province's representation in the upper chamber. He fills the vacancy created by the death of Senator George Penny last December. There now are 71 Liberal senators in the upper chamber.

Sales Campaign

Canada's dairy industry, which is "big business" when it comes to sales, plans to adopt one of big business methods—advertising.

Dairy farmers of Canada, meeting at Ottawa in annual convention, agreed unanimously on an all-out advertising campaign designed to boost sagging domestic sales of milk, butter, cheese, and other dairy products.

Sales promotion of farm products has usually been left to processing companies, but the Dominion Dairy Association's sales promotion and public relations committee decided farm organizations should start carrying the ball.

The committee lined up a program which called on dairy farmers' organizations across the country to sell producers on the need for an advertising campaign through the dairy and farm press and radio.

It urged promotion of high-quality products, co-operation with milk and cream buyers to collect funds for the promotion of special premiums on individual dairy products, and research and promotion of new products. The program would also study buying habits of consumers and their reaction to various types of packaging.

Export Reports

Since Canada's economic health relies so strongly on exports, it was important news last week when Ottawa announced the result of Canada's export trade in 1949.

Her bid for a larger share of the rich United States market sent exports to that country soaring on an all-time high last year. Total value was $1,345,528,000—an increase of more than $2,000,000 over the 1948 figure.

But Canada's over-all export drive, hampered by shortage of dollars in overseas markets, fell slightly in 1949. Total exports for the year were $2,989,000,000 compared with $2,975,000,000 the year before.

CHEMICAL CONTROL OF QUACK GRASS

The weed killer, TCA (trichloroacetate) provides an excellent means of eradicating quack grass in and around fence lines, and it will be used to some extent in Alberta this year to control small patches of this weed in a variety of places. However, G. R. Stealing, Supervisor of Soil Conservation and Weed Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture, is doubtful of its value for large scale operations at the present time. At a price of 60¢ per pound, the cost to eradicate quack grass with TCA is around $40.00 per acre. Quack grass can be controlled much more cheaply by cultural methods. The crop too will be better following cultural eradication of quack grass than when the chemical is used.

The main advantage of TCA is that it does not sterilize the soil for more than about 30 days. This is a comparatively short period as compared with the effects of Sodium Chlorate, Unlike Sodium Chlorate, TCA is not flammable, but since it will irritate the skin if it comes in direct contact, it must be used with a certain amount of caution.

BE CAREFUL WITH SCREENINGS

Because of the short crop and lower than normal feed supplies, weed seed screenings are being fed to livestock in many parts of the Province. Although screenings may have a fair feed value, they are definitely dangerous from the standpoint of new weed infestations unless they are very carefully handled. Screenings shipped in from some other part of the Province may start a whole new weed problem in the district where they are fed.

G. R. Sterling, Supervisor of Soil Conservation and Weed Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture, reminds us that as far as the feeding of screenings is concerned, the Noxious Weeds Act states that no screenings of vehicles and machinery on the shall be used as feed for livestock unless they are used within an enclosure which shall be subject to the approval of a weed inspector. A big step towards protection is to have your weed inspector or field supervisor check and advise on the feed lot you intend to use. Keep in mind that many weed seeds fed to livestock pass through the animals unharmed. If livestock are allowed to roam around or the fresh manure is scattered on farm land, it will have a problem right there. Manure from feed lots should be allowed to rot before being applied to farm land as fertilizer.

Then there is the matter of care in hauling. Another clause in the Noxious Weeds Act states that no screenings of vehicles and machinery on the highways in the prevention of scattering weeds. In effect, it says that no one shall operate any vehicle or machinery on any road in such manner that seeds of noxious weeds shall be scattered on the road. If you are hauling screenings, see that the box is tight, and keep it covered to prevent weeds from falling on the road or blowing onto fields along the roadside.

COVOTE HUNTING

The Department of Lands and Forests of the Alberta Department of Agriculture has hired two planes for coyote hunting. One to work in the Edmonton area, another to work in the Wainwright north to the Saskatchewan River area. Anyone knowing of areas where coyotes are plentiful should report them to this office. Through contact with plane operators we can direct them in their areas of hunting.

ORDER FORAGE CORP SEEDS NOW

Farmers who need forage seed are advised to order supplies now. The 1949 crop was short and unless Alberta farmers look after their needs immediately a high proportion of the crop will move to export markets.

In addition to the short crop much of the quality is low. Late orders either will not be filled or only inferior seed will be available. Even at present high prices, farmers should think carefully before reducing their seedings of forage crops. There is not only supply but pasture but control weeds and conserve soil. Seed can be obtained at present through seed stores, elevator agents, co-operative stores and in some districts from creameries. The Provincial Policy that has been in operation till 1949 has been discontinued since 1950. Farmers who ordered their seed in former years can direct you to the nearest supply of forage seed.

GRASSHOPPER FORECAST

The 1950 Grasshopper forecast shows moderate infestations in the Chauvin, Doherty-Browning areas. The number of hoppers expected is small, but with a favorable spring and early summer, crop damage could be severe. A close lookout must be kept for this pest as soon as spring work starts.

WEED CONTROL IN GRAIN AND PASTURES

The control of weeds in grain seeded down to grass and clover is a many sided problem. Says George Knowles, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa: First the chemical used should control weeds. Next it should not harm the clover or grass, then it must not reduce the yield of grain. Finally it should be possible to apply this chemical cheaply and with equipment readily available.

At the present time there are three chemicals which offer some hope of controlling annual weeds in grain which is seeded down. These chemicals are calcium cyanamide dust, dinitro compounds, better known by the trade names Sinx and Dows Selective, and 2,4-D.

Of the three, 2,4-D is the easiest to apply for it can be put on in a low volume of water by the inexpensive type of sprayer now in general use for other types of weed control. Sinx or Dows Selective comes next in ease of application, but since it must be applied in at least 40 gallons of water per acre a large volume sprayer, the type used for orchard spraying fitted with a broadcast boom must be used to apply this herbicide. Calcium cyanamide, which is a black powder, is the most difficult to apply. First of all it must be put on or immediately preceding dew. It is not active as a herbicide when applied on dry foliage. Then cyanamide dust should be applied uniformly and suitable dusting equipment is not readily available in the areas where seeding down to grass and clover is the most common practice.

Calcium cyanamide dust and Dows Selective or Sinx if applied according to directions do not reduce grain yields. The injury they cause to grass and clover is so slight it can be ignored. Both these herbicides control mustard and some other species of annual weeds.

Unfortunately 2,4-D, the chemical which is cheapest, easiest to apply and controls the most weeds, is rather severe on clover, but the results of experiments show that all species of clovers are not equally sensitive to 2,4-D treatments. They seem to work in this order of resistance, red clover, ladino, alfalfa and sweet clover. The latter two are very sensitive even to very small amounts of 2,4-D. Another encouraging finding is that clovers, as they advance in growth, become more resistant to 2,4-D. Of course the weeds also become more resistant as they grow older. But there was less clover injury when spraying with 2,4-D was delayed until the grain was up about 14 inches than when the chemical was applied on grain at a height of 6 in-

WHAT DOES YOUR SEED GRADE?

The results of the last spring "Seed Drill" survey has arrived in our office. The report indicates that our seed grain situation is serious from the standpoint of grade.

The results are as follows:
Number of samples — 20
Rejected—11 or 55 per cent; No. 1 seed—3 or 15 per cent; No. 2 seed—3 or 15 per cent; No. 1 seed—4 or 20 per cent.

Eleven samples of wheat were taken with 5 rejected and 2 grading No. 1. One—5 samples with 3 rejected, and 4 samples with 1 rejected. The samples were taken at random all over the province. Whenever I happened to see a seed drill close to the road. Testing was done by the Laid Elevators Farm Service in Winnipeg. Will note were the greatest offenders causing 75 per cent of the rejected samples.

The fanning mill is one of the most valuable machines on the farm, if properly used. Some of the samples I collected would indicate that the fanning mill had never been used at all. Efficient operation consists basically of the greatest offenders causing 75 per cent of the rejected samples. The speed of operation, and preventing over-loading of grain on the sieves. The results of the survey means that many farmers are still planting noxious weeds uniformly over their entire crop area, and then spending considerable sums of money in an endeavor to control them. The solution to this is to exercise more care in cleaning seed. If every farmer in our M.T. paid strict attention to the type of seed he sows, the saving in money would be tremendous.

NEWS NOTES

from your
Dist. Home Economist
Sheila M. Forrest, Ryley

Last week we were discussing buying of cottons. Naturally all of our spring sewing will not be in cotton so we should consider other materials. Rayon is our chief substitute for silk and if acetate rayon it is usually marked. To distinguish it from other rayons we burn a small sample. Other types of rayon burn much like cotton while this type melts. It is the melting characteristic of acetate rayon to which we object as it is very difficult to iron.

Rayons require special care. The laundry method is usually given. If a washable rayon, it should be pre-shrunk before making garment. Spun rayon may resemble wool, cotton or linen and usually only chemical tests can determine the difference.

Sometimes spun rayon is mixed to give cheaper materials. Or since dyes will affect it differently from other materials it may be added to give a two-toned effect.

Labels on rayon goods should:

1. Specify shrinkage - definite information.
2. State degree of color fastness.
3. Per centage of each material contained: 10% wool and 90 per cent rayon.

ALBERTA COW ESTABLISHES WESTERN RECORD

Officials of the Alberta Department of Agriculture and Holstein breeders from many parts of the province were present last week at an event of outstanding interest to dairymen everywhere.

On January 19th, Seymour Nora Ormsby, a purebred Holstein cow in the herd of H. L. Ahrens of Red Deer, completed an official R.O.P. record of 24,449 pounds of milk in 365 days on twice a day milking. This record establishes Nora as Western Canadian Champion. Only two other cows in Canada have produced a greater volume of milk on twice a day milking. They are the Ontario owned cows Don Great Top Burke and Pontiac Dutchland DeVries.

Seymour Nora Ormsby was born August 4th, 1942, in the herd of C. S. Wiseman of Galahad. She started her record milking period on January 19th, with the birth of twin calves—a bull and heifer. When Mr. Wiseman disposed of his dairy herd by auction on October 24th, Nora was purchased by Mr. Ahrens. From November 1st until completion of her record on January 19th, 1950, Nora increased her daily production considerably. Her average production for the final days of October was 56 pounds; for November 58 pounds; for December 63 pounds, and for January 68 pounds. On her last milking, Nora produced the outstanding total of 74 pounds of milk.

This cow offers an excellent example of what can be done with good breeding, feeding and management. During the past year she produced more milk than five average cows in Alberta. Average production for the herd owned by Mr. Ahrens is three times that of the average herd in the province.

On grain seeded down to red clover, ladino or alfalfa it seems safe to say up to 4 ounces per acre of the most 2,4-D acid in the animal form and 5 ounces of the ester.

It is hoped that 1950 will show another 100 per cent increase. The 1949 total, which represents 2,200 farm visits by the veterinarians, would have, been even higher had not the persistent sub-zero temperature of mid-December held up a large number of vaccinations in range herds.

During 1949, Alberta made an all out effort to have the vaccinations or gained in many municipalities so that even the small livestockman would not be missed. When this program is followed through for several years, the fight against the disease will show lasting benefits. There is more evidence accumulating all the time in the files of the Veterinary Service Branch that yearly vaccination of the heifer calves is giving good protection against Bang's disease and as a result is increasing the profits of dairymen and ranchers alike.

Dr. Ballantyne advises that blood testing for Bang's disease has also shown a tremendous increase during the past year. In 1948, 13,887 tests were made. In 1949, blood tests from cattle on 2,500 farms in 47 municipalities improved districts and special areas, totaled 25,258.

WORLD OF WHEAT

U.S.A. SUPPORT PRICES

The Ontario Crop Improvement Association have just concluded their annual annual meeting. The farmers present—some 650—seemed to be greatly confused over falling prices and declining markets.

At the banquet, Mr. Louis Bromfield of Malabar Farm, U.S.A., who has written a number of books on farm conservation and other agricultural topics, offered his view that the high support prices in the United States are a great mistake, for these high support prices keep in production a number of people who had recently gone into farming, or who were farming on sub-marginal land and who, therefore, were adding to the large unsold surplus in the United States.

Mr. Bromfield said that only lower prices would shake these people out of production; which he claimed was necessary in order to enable the honest-to-goodness efficient farmer to stay in business. Mr. Bromfield said that untold thousands of inefficient farmers were producing 20 bushels of corn to the acre, whereas their more efficient neighbors were producing 100 bushels to the acre. The 20 bushel producers needed to be forced out of farming by lower prices he claimed. Efficient production with high yields, and at lower costs, he concluded was the only hope for the true American farmer.

THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

The world's production of flaxseed for 1949, according to recent reports, is estimated at 135.4 million bushels, about eight percent lower than last year's harvest. Although all North American flaxseed harvests were small this year, the decrease was offset to a great extent by increased production in Europe, South America, Africa and Oceania.

Australia according to recent reports has agreed to sell Spain some 1,984,000 bushels of wheat at the current price of free wheat. Although no exact price was set, it is estimated to be approximately 12.5 a bushel.

France according to recent reports has sold to Germany 855,000 bushels of wheat under the terms of the International Wheat Agreement.

GREENSHIELDS

We are pleased to know that Mrs. Bill Danella returned home Saturday from Wainwright hospital, where she had been for more than a week.

Visitors at the Morrison home Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly and Susan, also Mrs. Kelly's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Thompson from Lindsay, Ont., who have been visitors in town several days. Susan was celebrating her 2nd birthday so brought along her pretty cake, complete with two candles.

We notice Mr. Ralph Patterson driving a nice Plymouth coupe these days. Miss Verna Patterson has been working at Wainwright hospital for the past few weeks.

Our local curlers had the pleasure of four games in the Wainwright Ladies Bonspiel, but were far from prize winners. Experience is a good teacher, anyway.

Rose Willow

On February 2nd the Rose Willow W.L. met at the home of Mrs. Carey with seven members present. The meeting followed its usual course of procedure.

The members have really started the new year with a bang. A quilt top has been completed since last meeting and several articles made up and turned into the work box. Plans were made for a quilting bee.

All the convokers had papers on their respective topics.

Several baskets of fruit and cards were sent last month.

Plans were made for our annual chicken supper to be held at Blacks.

The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Otis on March 2nd.

Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Scwell tied for first in a very interesting contest supplied by Mrs. McTurk.

At the close of the meeting we all enjoyed the lovely supper served by Mrs. Carey.

COUPLE BUILD HOME, FIND INDEPENDENCE

COLBORNE, Ont.—Confidence, hard work and the dream of a pleasing land-lord turned a $2,500 investment into a two-story frame home valued at $7,000 for Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dingwall and their four children.

"We aimed at a place where we didn't have to smother the children if they wanted to yell for joy, or be turned out of we didn't just please a landlord," said Mrs. Dingwall. "We wanted a home and we worked for it."

In April, 1948, the young couple paid $125 for nine acres of land near this village 25 miles west of Trenton on Lake Ontario. Mrs. Dingwall "couldn't" even lift an ax when she started, but soon she and her husband were clearing the land while the children picked wild berries.

One year and one baby later they moved from a cramped two-room apartment into their spacious white house.

"There were times when things look so hopeless," said her husband. "Once a home-made car-trailer they were using rolled into the excavation for the house and they had to shovel in loads of clay to get the trailer out. But both husband and wife said everything was worth it, and they're proud they did it themselves. Any offer of help was politely refused because the Dingwalls wanted to be independent."

Now they plan to make a living from the land. Last summer here, paid them $130. Fruit trees and vegetables are expected to give even better returns.

The young lady visitor to the zoo stared at the sign on the kangaroo cage in stunned silence. The sign read simply: "Native of Australia." Finally, she turned away from the cage and shrieked: "Great! Heaven! My sister married one of them things!"

Canada's most important single industry is agriculture. About one out of four Canadians is engaged in farming.

Ross Edwards was on the door and receipts were about $70.00. Thisspiel was played for the most part in extremely cold weather but every rink entered was right there for all the games. CHURCH NOTES

THE LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. H. Olsen, S.A., S.D., Minister

The church should help its membership, especially those on the farms to regard agriculture, not merely as a business, but as a way of life. When all the members of a church work together as partners with one another and co-workers with God, agriculture brings spiritual as well as material blessing and contributes toward the building of integrated and happy communities.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
THE GOSPEL IN ACTION

The Lesson: Acts 13:2-5, 14, 15, 42-44.
Memory Verse: "When the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord."

We read that Paul and Barnabas came to Antioch. When the Sabbath they arrived they went to the synagogue. After the leaders invited them, to speak the Apostles told the congregation about Jesus Christ. We are told that Paul preached a great sermon. He told how God had led his people the Jews through centuries, and now God had come down to earth in the Person of Jesus Christ. They were so interested that the Apostles were invited to return and tell more about Jesus. The following Sabbath Day almost the whole city came to hear the Good News. We can imagine that the synagogue was filled many times on that day. But as in this day, many said what we sometimes sing in a hymn: "Whosoever will may come to Jesus."

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Look for the facts!

In this simple phrase there lies magic power to help you build a more effective personality and win greater success.

A famous industrialist was once asked how he could make so many wise decisions quickly. "I get the facts," was his reply. "Once you gather all the important information related to any matter, the facts themselves decide the issue."

Needless to say, the man who can make sound decisions more frequently and rapidly wins against all competitors in any field.

Many a new invention, too, has been made because somebody discovered new facts, or gave familiar facts a new interpretation. You may notice some little detail others have overlooked and be inspired to change it in some way that will create a money-making invention.

or lead to a valuable time-money-saving idea on your job.

Facts may serve us in countless other ways. They provide power for selling or convincing others. They make our comments more effective and interesting. Used as guideposts, they keep us from the dangers of wishful thinking and impractical philosophies.

Above all, facts add to our knowledge. And knowledge is power!

To build a sound life insurance plan for yourself and your family, you need the help of someone who can analyze all the facts related to your future needs. The modern life insurance company representative is trained to do this—and you can rely on his recommendations.

they became angry. Here we see the marks of a Christian again, the marks we read about last week. Paul and his friend Barnabas were not afraid and they spoke out boldly. The anger of their opponents was roused so much that the Apostles were forced to leave for Iconium. However, the word of the Lord had been proclaimed, and the seed had been planted. The word brought joy to many hearts as our memory verse tells us. The Good News that Paul preached in Antioch told both the Jews and the Gentiles that God was Father of all men, and in His sight it made no difference what the race or color of a man might be. Paul said what we sometimes sing in a hymn: "Whosoever will may come to Jesus."

This message is the message of all missionaries of the Gospel. All men are equal in the sight of God, and all men must acknowledge that Jesus Christ is their Saviour. Unless the world will accept this message, then we cannot expect hope for true peace.

You might say that I am only a boy or a girl and what can I do? There is much you can do if you wish. Do not despise children of other nationalities. Remember that the Lord Jesus said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me." We saw a picture of the other day with that text underneath. The picture showed Jesus sitting in the midst of children of all nations. We learn from that picture Jesus doesn't look at our color or listen to the language we speak. He looks at our hearts, and if our hearts are His, then He loves us. There are boys and girls who have not heard about our Master, and they are not all in foreign lands. Jesus loves them too, and He wants us to make certain that we will help the Church to raise up men and women so that those boys and girls will hear the Gospel. We can do this in our prayers for the missionary work, by giving our money to the Church, and by being our lives. He may want us to become missionaries or to stay at home and work behind the lines. But above all God desires that we love our church and go there to train ourselves to become Christian men and women for the future.

BEES WITHSTAND
COLD WEATHER

In spite of the record breaking cold weather this winter, the bees in Alberta seem to have survived so far in good condition. W. G. McAlister, Provincial Apiarist, advises that the effect of the cold weather was blocking of the hive entrances with frost. After a few days of this the colonies became uncomfortable and usually generate enough heat to thaw them out.

This generated heat enables the bees to move freely about the hive to secure food; a thing they are unable to do when benumbed with cold. Their movement becomes so restricted that having consumed the stores which the cluster of bees is in contact they cannot reach fresh supplies even a few inches away.

One danger in having the colony generate heat is that they may generate too much, says Mr. McAlister. If the temperature reaches 90 degrees F. within the cluster of bees the queen will commence laying eggs. If she does the bees will have to over-exert in order to incubate the brood. In doing this they consume a great deal of their stores, use up their energy and die before spring. If the entrances remain closed for a week or so, the beekeeper can help to prevent this overheating by clearing out the entrances with wire.

EDMONTON—Edmonton may get a second library bus, similar to the "bookmobile" now operated by the public library. The library is asking city commissioners for a grant of $4,156 to buy a second vehicle.

ARMY MANOEUVRES IN SUB-ZERO WEATHER

A group of some 200 Canadian army men who are to take part in Exercise Sweetheart next month on the Alaska highway are at present receiving a winter course at Wainwright military camp, Alta.

The above photo shows part of this group pulling their equipment down toboggans to a bivouac area where they will spend the night in tents with the temperature around 25 below zero.

TREATS FROM THE ROOT CELLAR

All up-and-coming meal planners know that the family needs vegetables every single day. Knowing the value of vegetables is one thing and getting the family to eat them is another. The old saying about leading a horse to water may apply equally well to small "Betty" or "Bob" who balks at carrots. If mother can make those vegetables look so good and smell so good that the family can't resist trying them and if they taste good enough for second helpings the problem is solved.

Carrots, beets, turnips and parsnips seem to offer a great variety of choice when they are put into the cellar in the fall. By the time February appears on the calendar, the family begins to wish for a change. One reason is that some of the crisp freshness is lost in storage but a greater reason may be that the homemaker always serves all vegetables plain boiled. This may be fine once or twice but the very best food suffers from such monotony.

The curious point is the very often one of the different ways of cooking the vegetables may be more simple and require less time in preparation than the regular method. The home economists of the Consumer Service Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, suggest trying these recipes to add interest to winter menus.

Browned Parsnips or Carrots

6 medium parsnips or carrots
Flour
3 tablespoons fat
Cook vegetables whole in a small amount of boiling, salted water or steam until tender. Depending on the age and condition, carrots will take 20 to 40 minutes; parsnips, 30 to 40 minutes. Cut vegetables in 1/2-inch slices or in quarters. Dip pieces in flour and saute in hot fat until golden brown. The cooked vegetables may be mashed, separated and shaped into patties for sauteing. Yield: six servings.

Turnip Puff

2 cups hot mashed turnip
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon fat
Add dry ingredients and fat to hot turnips. Heat until light. While still hot, add beaten egg yolk. Cook for 2 minutes. Place in a greased baking dish. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for 20 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Honey Beets

3 cups sliced cooked beets
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons honey
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup vinegar
Melt fat in saucepan, add flour and honey, stirring constantly. Gradually add water and vinegar. Cook until slightly thickened, about 5 minutes. Add beets and continue cooking until beets are thoroughly heated. Yield: six servings.

Baked Carrot Fingers

6 medium carrots, cut lengthwise into fingers
1/4 cup hot water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon fat
Place carrots in greased casserole. Mix hot water, salt and fat. Pour over carrots and bake, covered, in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees F., for 1 hour or until tender. Yield: six servings.

WIFE'S ABLE TONGUE HELPED WHEAT SALE

WINNIPEG—A woman with a knowledge of the Jewish language has been credited with being largely responsible for the first wheat contract ever given Canada by Bolivia. The contract for $200,000 was the first wheat to a Winnipeg company. This marked the first time the South American country has ever bought wheat outside the United States or the Argentine.

C. O. Swartz, president of the company which sent the grain from Vancouver to La Paz, gave part credit to his wife for the deal. Mr. and Mrs. Swartz were at a party in Paris last May with a Bolivian grain man. No one in the Swartz party could speak Spanish, but the South

CLEAN NEW TOWN

BUILT IN AFRICA

TO OVERCOME FLY

KADUNA, Nigeria—A new town is rising in northern Nigeria. It is named Takalafaya, which means "walk in health." It was built because of a fly. One mile east of the thriving new community is the swat, densely-populated town of Old Anchau. Until recently 80 per cent of its 2,500 inhabitants suffered from guinea-worm infection caused by impure water. One third of them had sleeping sickness, caused by the dread tsetse-fly.

Takalafaya was built as part of a mass campaign against the tsetse-fly, a blood-sucking insect which infects both humans and cattle.

The new town is seen in British colonial administrators as the symbol of a new Africa. It has wide, mahogany-lined streets, an elementary school, modern medical dispensary and a spacious market.

The town of Old Anchau was formerly centre of local government for the Anchau district. Now a corridor in the district has been made safe from the sleeping sickness disease by slashing down the trees and bushes where the tsetse breeds.

Sixteen model villages have been built in the 700-square-mile corridor and smaller communities have been provided with sanitary, cement-lined wells.

The disease-prevention scheme was made possible by a grant of $24,000 under Britain's Colonial Development and Welfare Act.

Britain Helps

The new town of Takalafaya illustrates the change taking place in the battle against ignorance and disease. Aided by British funds and technical assistance, programs of controlled settlement, housing, preventive medicine, education and research have been launched throughout British Africa.

Sleeping sickness is one of the worst scourges in Africa. Within three years it killed 40 per cent of the population in one Uganda province at the beginning of the century.

In one form the disease affects cattle and because of this, natives in tsetse-infested areas suffer from a chronic lack of protein in their diets due to lack of meat and milk.

British scientists have now produced a drug called antitrypan which not only cures sick animals but immunizes healthy cattle. This discovery may make 4,000,000 square miles of Africa's soil safe for cattle-raising.

Malaria is another barrier to the development of Africa. The disease directly increases the mortality rates of many other diseases and causes lethargy and lack of initiative on the part of the African population.

Here again science is aiding fighters of disease. Mass attacks against the malarial mosquito by removing breeding grounds through drainage, carrying introduction of fish and use of DDT, are being carried out in thousands of swamps, rivers, pools and ditches.

Meanwhile medical services are continually expanded in Africa. Hospitals are being built and extended, and inhabitants who have for centuries relied on their own native doctors are showing increasing confidence in clinics for the welfare of mothers and children.

CHRISTMAS SEAL RECEIPTS

George Lord, chairman of the Kinsmen Club Christmas Seal Committee for Edmonton and Northern Alberta today announced that Christmas Seal receipts have reached $46,500 toward the objective of $46,500. We need only $4,500 to put us over the top, and we hope this will be the last appeal, as we would like to close our books. Edmonton and Northern Alberta have always made their quota, and we are sure this year will be no exception.

Provincial receipts, announced by officials of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, are slowly but steadily mounting toward the objective of $155,000 and now stand at $144,500, leaving only $10,500 still needed.

Christmas Seal contributions are allowable income tax deductions, and may be sent to the Kinsmen Club Christmas Seal Office, Haintzman Hall, Edmonton.

Congress may legislate until Monday, but the basis of our national economy is still an honest day's work.

American and Mrs. Swartz talked Jewish and the deal was born. "Of course," said Mrs. Swartz, "my wife's knowledge of Jewish isn't what sold the wheat. We got the contract because Canadian wheat is the best in the world."

Fertilizing Grain Crops

Some Western farmers are of the opinion that our prairie soils do not, and never will, need fertilizer. Others insist that the use of commercial fertilizers will eventually ruin the soil. However, the fact is that, with proper use, more and more grain growers in Western Canada are using commercial fertilizers with beneficial results.

Plant Growth Requirements.

The essential requirements for the normal growth of plants are sunlight, air, moisture, temperature and food. Of these, plant food is the one growth factor over which farmers can exercise a measure of control. To maintain the basic plant foods (Phosphate, Nitrogen and Potash) at a satisfactory level in our prairie soils, effective use can and should be made of commercial fertilizers.

Fertilizer Tests. The results of extensive fertilizer trials in Western Canada have shown that profitable increases in yield result from the application of phosphorus fertilizers. Nitrogen is of secondary importance, except in the grey-wooded soils, or where heavy stubble or trash is being incorporated into the soil. In the more humid regions, the application of 25 lbs. of 11-45-0 fertilizer usually results in an increase in yield of about 6 bushels, while an increase of 7 to 8 bushels per acre can be expected where 50 lbs. of 11-45-0 are applied.

The proper use of commercial fertilizer results not only in higher yields, but in better weed control, reduced root rot damage, and earlier and more uniform ripening of grain crops. It should be clearly understood, however, that large quantities of fertilizer do not of themselves guarantee high yields. The plain fact is that, in order to maintain soil fertility, effective use must be made of crop rotations, which include grasses and legumes, good cultural practices, as well as commercial fertilizers. In the future, however, fertilizers will play an increasingly vital part in the effective management of our prairie soils.

Painting Hints

When paint cracks, peels or blisters, or when it doesn't hide the surface properly according to the instructions on the container, the painter whether he be professional or amateur is often prone to blame the material. The Canadian Paint Varnish and Lacquer Association points out that more often than not there is a more deep-seated reason for the failure and asks that the householder examine all factors involved before blaming the paint.

For example, take the case of blistering of paint, perhaps one of the most familiar types of failure. The term refers to the formation of bubbles, blisters or pimples on the surface of the finished work, and it occurs usually after the film is dry. The fault here is frequently the time of day of application for blistering may be caused by exposure to excessive heat such as direct sun rays. Moreover, it may also be caused by the improper cleaning of the surface which leaves spots of grease or moisture on the wood. It may also occur because the pores of the wood were not properly filled, or as a result of the too frequent application of coats of paint which prevent the finishing material from drying thoroughly.

Blistering may also be caused by finishing over wood that is green or imperfectly dry. When such a paint job gets warm after standing in the sunlight or in a drying room, the moisture comes out and causes blistering. It is also a mistake to apply a heavy coat of shellac over the filler because it may seal in the moisture from the stain or unevaporated thinners in the filler. These expand upon exposure to a slightly higher temperature and cause the shellac coat to blister. Vapor, gas or water is usually present in blisters.

Another common failure in the finishing of such items as pianos and fine furniture is known by the amusing name of "heaving". Building coats, used for building up the surface of the object, are applied before rubbing. These coats are also known as foundation coats, or may be referred to by furniture manufacturers as sanding sealers. Where the building coats are applied too frequently, too heavily, or unevenly, they sometimes prevent proper drying. The film, dries at the top, but is more or less soft and mushy underneath. When such a built up finish is rubbed, the top coat breaks down, and naturally these spots will be more porous or softer than the surrounding surface. The final or flow cost may stick into these spots, soften up the building coats and cause a slight swelling or rising of the surface in these spots. From its appearance is deriving the name "heaving" or "heaving up".

Many similar examples of paint failures could be given for which the painter or protective-coating is the first thing to be blamed, where actually it is the least responsible of all the factors involved. It pays rich dividends to prepare the surface thoroughly before putting brush to paint, and to read everything the manufacturer has to say about his product in the instructions before, not after the job is done.
